Hahn Foresees 19-Year Savings of $70 Million in Court Plans

Decision on consolidating the county's 23 municipal court districts into nine districts, has been delayed a week by the Board of Supervisors.

After turning down attempts to adopt the nine-district system, the Supervisors voted 3-2 for the 30-day delay. Kenneth Hahn and Ernest Debs opposed the delay.

Hahn said yesterday that he would continue to press for the one-court plan which was advanced by Judge William H. Rosenthal last year. He told the HERALD he would seek a vote on the one-court plan next Tuesday.

LOS ANGELES County taxpayers can save a huge total of $70,255,000 over the next 19 years if the Board of Supervisors adopts Judge Rosenthal's plan, Hahn said.

The total savings possible under the plan were outlined in a report to Supervisor Hahn by John R. Leach, Assistant Chief Administrative Officer, who pointed out that the savings would be made in three ways:

1. Reduction of operating expenses by $10,375,000.
2. Reduction of construction costs by eliminating the need for 16 future courtrooms: $2,880,000.
3. Recovery of $3,000,000 annual revenue from traffic fines, now lost because there is no central traffic index.

BY ADOPTING the single municipal court plan the problem of adding more judges, thus increasing costs, each year will be eliminated. The plan will make it possible for the work load to be more evenly distributed between the judges. Supervisor Hahn stated that some judges do not have enough work to do while others have more than they can handle.

SUPERVISOR Hahn pointed out that a recent opinion by County Counsel Harold W. Kennedy stated that only two steps are needed to consolidate the municipal courts into a single, unified court district.

1. Adoption of an ordinance by the Board of Supervisors fixing the boundaries of the consolidated court district.
2. Adoption of a simple enabling act by the State Legislature providing for the number of judges and personnel of the new district and similar details.

SUPERVISOR Hahn pointed out that the establishment of a central traffic index would increase revenue to the County, and cities in the County, by $3,000,000 a year, making it possible for judges to impose fines based on an offender's prior traffic record.

"Many traffic violators now get off with $5 and $10 fines, but if the judge knew the prior records they would get much stiffer penalties. This would also bring about improved traffic safety by helping to get dangerous, incompetent or drunken drivers off the streets," Hahn continued.

HE EXPLAINED that seven municipal court districts now keep a file of prior traffic violations. They are Alhambra, Burbank, Long Beach, Los Cerritos, San Antonio, and Santa Monica.

The remaining 16 districts do not keep records of prior traffic offenses. They are Citrus, East Los Angeles, Compton, Culver City, Antelope, Inglewood, South Bay, Beverly Hills, Whittier, South Gate, Downey, Pomona, El Monte, Pasadena, Santa Anita, and Glendale.

By consolidating the municipal courts into one court immediately a total of at least $12,700,000 can be saved the taxpayers between 1962 and 1965. Annual savings in operating costs of the courts would increase each year, reaching a total of $1,000,000 a year by 1980.

IN CONTRAST, the proposal to consolidate the municipal courts in nine court district, would produce long range saving, about three-quarters of what would be saved under the single court plan. However, the nine court plan would actually increase costs by $120 the first year and the second year would save only about $12,000.

In addition, it would not have many of the major advantages of the single court plan in making possible the most effective use of the judicial manpower now available, and it would raise serious problems in establishing boundaries, some of which would have to be artificial in order to comply with the constitutional prohibition against splitting cities into more than one court district, Supervisor Hahn said.

Director of Seminary to Speak Here

Dr. Charles L. Feinberg, director of the Talbot Seminary of La Mirada, will speak at the 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. services Sunday at the Del Amo Baptist Church, 3708 Del Amo Blvd., according to the Rev. Stuart G. Smith, pastor.

Dr. Feinberg was called one of the great conservative scholars of our time by the Rev. Mr. Smith when he announced his visit here.

The guest is a Bible Conference speaker in much demand, the Rev. Mr. Smith said.

The meetings are open to the public, and nursery care will be provided for those with children. Refreshments will be served after the evening service.
